Vast Issues Depend Upon the Welfare of Our Men!

Cheer Up and Thank God for the Y.M.C.A.

TRY to picture yourself in the muddy cold trenches after exciting days and long nights of mortal danger and intense nervous strain. Rushing "whiz-bangs" and screaming "coal boxes" are no respecters of persons. You are hit! But despite shock and pain you still can face the long weary trudge back to dressing station. Weary, overwrought and depressed, you are prey to wild imaginings of that other coming ordeal with the surgeon. There are other "walking wounded," too! You must wait, wait, wait. And then—

Up comes a cheery Y.M.C.A. man, the ever-present "big brother" to the soldier, with words of manly encouragement. Close beside the dressing station the good generous folks at home have enabled him to set up a canteen. He hands you biscuits, and chocolate or coffee.

Y.M.C.A.

Red Triangle Fund

Canada-Wide Appeal

"In thousands of cases," writes an officer, "it was that first hot cup of coffee that dragged the man back to life and sanity."

The tremendous helpfulness of the Y.M.C.A. as an aid to the "morale," or fighting spirit, of the soldiers is everywhere praised. No wonder the Germans make every effort to smash the Y.M.C.A. huts out of existence.

The Y.M.C.A. is everywhere. You first met the helpful, manly Y.M.C.A. worker in camp, then on train and boat, at camp in England and in France, close to the firing line. Often he risks his life to reach you in the trenches. He has won the warmest praise from military authorities, statesmen—the King!

Have you a precious boy at the front? You cannot be "over there" to guide him away from fierce temptations of camp and city. You cannot comfort him in his supreme hour of trial. Your parcels to him are necessarily few. But the Y.M.C.A., thank God, is "over there," going where you cannot go—doing the very things you long to do—doing it for you and for him.

Will you help? This vast organization of helpfulness needs at least $2,250,000 from Canada for 1918. For your boy's sake be GENEROUS!!

War Work Summary

There are:

- 96 branches of Canadian Y.M.C.A. in France.
- 79 branches in England.
- Dozens of Y.M.C.A. dug-outs in forward trenches under fire.
- Over 120 Military Secretaries overseas.
- 300,000 letters a day written in Y.M.C.A. overseas buildings.
- $133,000 needed for athletic equipment. (Helps morale of soldiers.)
- Y.M.C.A. saved hundreds of lives at Vimy Ridge by caring for walking wounded.
- Over 100 planes in England and France, also 300 gramophones and 27 moving picture machines.
- Y. M. C. A. helps boys in hospitals.
- More than 60,000 cups of hot tea and coffee distributed daily in France—free. Estimated cost for 8 months, $48,000.
- 150,000 magazines distributed free every month. (Estimated cost $15,000.)
- $125,000 used in 1917 to build huts in France.
- Concerts, sing-songs, good-night services and personal interviews energetically conducted. Concerts, lectures, etc., cost $5,000 a month.
- Thousands of soldiers decide for the better life.
- Y.M.C.A. sells many needful things to soldiers for their convenience. Profits, if any, all spent for benefit of soldiers.
- Service to boys in Camp hospitals.
- Red Triangle Clubs for soldiers in Toronto, St. John and Montreal. Centres in Paris and London for men on leave.
- Out of Red Triangle Fund, $75,000 to be contributed to the War Work of the Y.W.C.A.

Boys!

Here's your chance to do a fine stroke in the big war! Help the Y.M.C.A. to help your big brothers overseas by joining in the

"Earn and Give Campaign"

Six thousand Canadian older boys are invited to earn and give at least Ten Dollars ($10) to the Red Triangle Fund. That means $60,000 in all! Splendid! Five thousand dollars will be used for boys' work in India and China; another $5,000 for the National Boys' Work of Canada, and $50,000 to help big brothers in Khaki. Ask your local Y.M.C.A. representative for information and pledge card. When you have subscribed one or more units of Ten Dollars, you will receive a beautifully engraved certificate.

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY'S WORK

Depends Upon Good Red Blood to Nourish the Body—Weak People Need a Tonic

The tonic treatment through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for run down condition of the health is based on sound medical principles and on common sense. More and more men and women are realizing that pure, red blood means health, and that efficiency in the workshop, the office, the home or in any of the varied walks of life depends entirely upon the quality of the blood. There are, however, thousands of people who do not realize the truth of these statements. They are without ambition or strength to do their day's work; are always tired out; have but little appetite and a poor digestion; cannot get a refreshing night's sleep and are subject to headaches, backaches and nervousness because their blood is weak, watery and impure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give quick relief and permanently cure such men and women, because of their direct action on the blood, which they purify and build up to its normal strength. As through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the blood becomes rich and red it strengthens the muscles, tones up the nerves, makes the stomach capable of digesting the food and repairs the waste caused by growth or work. The need in every family of a safe and effective tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is shown by the following statement of Mrs. Julius Turk, M.D., Ont., who says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a most wretched and run down condition. My blood was thin and watery and my nerves were in such a condition that the least noise would make me start and tremble, and what a burden my housework seemed. One of my neighbors advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I have great reason to be glad that I followed her advice, for before I had used a half dozen boxes all symptoms of my trouble had disappeared, and I was as well as ever I had been in my life. I have also given the pills to my daughters with the most beneficial results, and I shall ever have a good word to say for them."

If you are feeling the least run down, weak or depressed do not delay—take these pills at once and note how speedily your old-time health will return. You can get the pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

U. S. Girls No Slackers

She was waiting for a suburban car, in Detroit, looking very trim in semi-uniform, the disc of the National Service badge fastened to her coat.

"Hum-h!" said the slight acquaintance, with its green overcoat belted in to its slender waist and its trousers gartered high above its shining gold-brown boots. "Hum-h! N. S. means 'no skirts,' I suppose?"

"No," replied the sweet young thing in semi-uniform. "No Slackers."

A Simple and Cheap Medicine.—A simple, cheap, and effective medicine is something to be desired. There is no medicine so effective a regulator of the digestive system as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple, they are cheap, they can be got anywhere, and their beneficial action will prove their recommendation. They are the medicine of the poor man and those who wish to escape doctors' bills will do well in giving them a trial.

"Typographical errors," said William Dean Howells, "are always amusing. When I was a boy in my father's printing office in Martin's Ferry, I once made a good typographical error. My father had written, 'The showers last week, though copious, were not sufficient for the millmen.' I set it up 'millmen.'"

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

How to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain

Let folks step on your feet hereafter; wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for corns will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezeone, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without even irritating the surrounding tissue.

A small bottle of freezeone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

If your druggist hasn't stocked this new drug, get a bottle from his wholesale drug house.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Oldest Man in Khaki

The King Requests Visit From Ontario Veteran at War

Among the soldiers who arrived at Kingston recently from overseas was Pte. J. W. Boucher, of Gananoque, who is 73 years of age. For eight months he faced the German lines and bravely endured the hardships. When his age was discovered, Boucher was ordered down the line and sent with a special pass to Buckingham Palace to meet the king, who was anxious to see the oldest man in khaki. The veteran was graciously received by his majesty and complimented on his courage and determination. Pte. Boucher fought in the United States Civil war.

Mrs. M. A. Bateson, of Souris, Man., writes:—"I have used Zam-Buk for chapped hands, and know of nothing to equal its wonderful soothing and healing powers."

Zam-Buk is also unequalled for chilblains, frost bites, cold cracks, and cold sores; as well as eczema, scalp sores, old wounds, ulcers, blood-poisoning, piles, burns and scalds, cuts and all skin injuries. 50c. a box. All druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

The Work of the Navy

The Silent Work of the Navy in Sweeping German Commerce From the Seas

Out of 11,000,000 men transported from the four corners of the earth by the British navy during the past four years, only 2,000 or less than one-ninth of ten per cent., were lost. Such figures speak eloquently for the brains, power and efficiency of the British fleet. Arm-chair strategists some of whom have never as much as smelt the salt of the sea are sometimes prone to question the part played by the fleet in this war; there is much foolish talk of the departed glory of Rodney and Drake and Nelson and much foolish wonderment why British ships don't risk disaster and the loss of the war by rushing blindly over German mine fields into the teeth of Heligoland. But the overwhelming thing is that the silent work of the navy in sweeping German commerce from the seas, in keeping the boasted German navy caked at Kiel, in transporting millions of soldiers over the seven seas, in maintaining communication lines with our armies in France from all over the world and, last, but not least, in successfully fighting the submarine menace, is one of the most stupendous facts of the war.—From the Ottawa Journal-Press.

Germany's Business Peace

Germany's "business peace" is being celebrated by the creation of 400 trading booths along the Russian front. It is the moment for which German traders have been expectantly waiting.—From the Springfield Republican.

"WHO IS THIS DR. CHASE?" we are sometimes asked by persons who know his medicines, but are not familiar with his interesting life story.

The boyhood days of Dr. A. W. Chase were spent in the vicinity of Buffalo, N.Y., and as he had early decided to be a medical doctor, he took the first opportunity of attendance at the University of Michigan, located at Ann Arbor.

After graduation he began the practice of medicine in Ann Arbor, Mich., and, at the time represented in the illustration, his reputation as a physician of exceptional skill had spread far beyond the confines of his State, and people came to him for treatment from many miles around.

As he was accustomed to travel across western Ontario to his native city of Buffalo he frequently stopped over at Canadian towns and cities for special consultation, and in this way made many friends in Canada.

The character and personality of Dr. Chase was such that to know him was to love him. He inspired confidence and respect, and made lasting friends wherever he went.

And thus it happened that when Dr. Chase placed his most successful prescriptions on the market, so that the people might obtain them more readily, they met with a reception in Canada as well as in the United States.

This letter from Mr. Parish will give you some idea of how Dr. Chase's Medicines became known throughout Canada.

Went to Dr. Chase in 1867

"In the year 1867 I was very bad with my kidneys. I could not work on account of my back being lame, sore and painful all the time. Though I carefully followed the directions of our family doctor he was unable to do me much good. At this time Dr. A. W. Chase was becoming known as an especially successful physician, and on the advice of my uncle, Charles Williams, I went to Dr. A. W. Chase at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and he gave me a box of his pills for kidney disease.

"You can scarcely imagine how much good they did me. They helped me so much that I went back to the doctor and bought a dozen boxes. In my mind there is not a medicine half so good as Dr. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS for kidney trouble and headache. We always keep them in the house as a family medicine, and I would not think of using any other."—Mr. O. W. Parish, Sturgeon Bay, Ont.

Note that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box of his medicines.

Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines are for sale by all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

The Registration of Steam Boilers

Owners of steam boilers in the Province should make themselves familiar with the new provisions of the Act Respecting Steam Boilers passed at the last session of the Provincial Legislature.

The provisions of the act affect all owners of portable and semi-portable boilers. All such steam boilers must be registered with the Department of Public Works in order that a license may be secured to operate them. A numbered license plate is issued which must be fixed on the boiler. The cost of the license is $7.50. It runs for the balance of the year. A penalty in the form of a fine up to $50.00 is imposed for the operation of boilers for which licenses have not been secured.

Provision is made for the regular annual inspection of boilers as well as for special inspection when necessary and for the issue of inspection certificates. Boilers may not be operated until they have been inspected. There is no charge for the inspection of registered boilers.

You need not send away for that printing, the Pioneer office is well equipped for the work.

JUDICIAL SALE OF FARM PROPERTY

Pursuant to the Order Nisi and the final order for sale in a certain action in the Supreme Court of Alberta, Judicial District of Calgary No. 12303, there will be offered for sale, with the approval of the Master, by J. N. Paton, Auctioneer, at his office, Didsbury, Alberta, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, the 11th day of May, 1918

the following lands and premises namely the North West Quarter of Section 30, in Township 30, Range 2, West of the 5th Meridian, Reserving unto His Majesty all mines and minerals and subject to the reservations and conditions contained in the Grant from the Crown or in the existing Certificate of Title.

The Vendor is informed that the land is all fenced and that 30 acres have been under cultivation. The soil is a black loam with yellowish clay sub soil and on the said land there are a one storey frame house in fair state of repair, a two storey frame barn with a lean to on each side and a good well with a windmill and large metal stock tank. The property is very good in general appearance, being about 10 miles South West of Didsbury.

The property will be subject to a reserve bid which has been fixed by the Master. The purchaser is at the time of sale to pay down a deposit of 20 per cent. of the purchase price to the solicitor for the Vendor and the remainder of the purchase price to be paid into Court to the credit of this action as follows: that is to say—

20% in 6 months with interest at 8% per annum.

20% in 12 months with interest at 8% per annum.

20% in 18 months with interest at 8% per annum.

20% in 24 months with interest at 8% per annum.

or the purchaser may pay cash if he so desires.

In all respects the terms and conditions of sale will be the standing conditions as approved by the Master or a Judge of this Honorable Court. Further particulars may be had from the auctioneer or Earl E. Freeman, Didsbury, Alberta, Solicitor for the Plaintiff.

Dated at Calgary, Alberta, this 16th day of April, 1918

The Amusement Tax Act

To take effect on, from and after May 1st, 1918.

Every person attending an exhibition, performance or entertainment at a place of amusement to which an entrance or admission fee is charged shall on each admission thereto pay an amusement tax at the following rates:

(1) When the price of admission is from 10c to 20c inclusive, a tax of 1c.

(2) When the price of admission is more than 20c and not more than 75c, a tax of 2 1/2c.

(3) When the price of admission is more than 75c and not more than $1.00, a tax of 5c.

(4) When the price of admission is more than $1.00 but not more than $2.00, a tax of 10c.

(5) When the price of admission is more than $2.00, a tax of 25c.

(6) A tax of 25c shall be paid by every person attending any boxing bouts or contests.

(7) Where admission is given by pass or complimentary tickets a tax shall be payable at the highest rate charged for the performance to which admission is granted.

PENALTIES

Every person who, without having previously paid the tax provided by this Act, enters a place of amusement in the province for the purpose of attending an exhibition, performance, entertainment or game shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty of not more than $50.00 for each offence, and in default of the payment of the fine and costs, to imprisonment for not more than six months.

Every owner of a place of amusement and every employee of an owner of a place of amusement who permits or authorizes or is a party or privy to the admission of any person to a place of amusement for the purpose of attending an exhibition, performance, entertainment or game therein without payment of the tax provided for by this Act, shall be liable, on summary conviction to a penalty of not less than $25.00, nor more than $200.00 for each offence, and, in default of payment of the fine and costs, to imprisonment for not more than six months.

READ THIS---SAVE MONEY

A STORY ABOUT MR. ADD: He is the most abused man in the world. People abuse him only because he can't fight back, that is, he is 'way above such things and wouldn't think of such gutter tricks as fighting. You see him every day, with the world of commerce on his back, going slowly along toward his goal—HE ALWAYS GETS THERE—but sometimes so many obstructions are put in his way that he has hard work getting to the top, but if you equip him properly you will see the burden he carries gradually come over the top of mediocre business, looming head and shoulders above the crowd, who are ever ready to jeer at him until he attains his end, then you and the rest say—"WHAT A LUCKY PERSON HE WAS."

You are walking the weary way, let Mr. Add help you along. Ask him to lighten your load—get you there far quicker than you can possibly do it by yourself. See him smile! He's willing, but you must make the effort yourself—of asking his willing assistance. Give him a new dress every time you approach him, as he works far better, the attention he attracts everywhere is entirely due to his personal appearance.

There was smooth pasture in the valley, broken by dark squares of turnip fields and pale stubble; but here and there the heath appeared again and wild cotton showed faintly white above the black peat-soil. By and by a cross, standing by itself on the lonely hillside, caught Foster's eye, and he asked his companion about it.

"The Count's Cross, sir; a courtesy title they held in the next dale. He was killed in a raid on a tower down the water, before the Featherstones came."

"But did they bury him up there?"

"No, sir; they were all buried at night by the water of Langrigg, but when they were carrying him home in the mist by the hill road the Scots from the tower overtook them. The Count's men were wounded and their horses foundered, but the Scots let them go when they found that he was dead. About 1300, sir. Somebody put the cross to commemorate it."

"They seem to have been a chivalrous lot," Foster remarked. "I wonder if that kind of thing would happen nowadays?"

"I'm afraid one couldn't expect it, sir," the old fellow answered and Foster smiled.

The cross faded into the hillside; it got dark and the valley narrowed. Trees grew in sheltered spots; the faint, delicate tracery of birch branches breaking the solid, black ranks of the firs. The road wound along the river, which roared, half seen, in the gloom. Now and then they ran through water, and presently the glare of the headlamps bored through breast-high mist. There was a smell of wet soil and rotting leaves. It was very different from the tangled pine bush of Ontario and the stark bareness of the plains, but it was somehow familiar and Foster felt that he was at home.

By and by the moon came out, and the mist got thinner as they ran into an opening where the side of the glen fell back. Lights twinkled at the foot of a hill, and as they sped on the irregular outline of a house showed against a background of trees. It glimmered, long and low, in the moonlight, and then Foster lost it as they ran through a gate into the darkness of a belt of firs. A minute or two later, the car slowed and stopped after passing round a bend.

A wide door stood hospitably open, and a figure upon the steps cut against the light. There were two more figures inside the hall, and as he got down Foster heard voices that sounded strangely pleasant and refined. Then a man whom he could not see well shook hands with him and took him in, and he stopped, half dazzled by the brightness.

The hall was large and a fire burned on a deep hearth. There were oil lamps on tall pillars, and in the background a broad staircase ran up to a gallery in the gloom. Foster, however, had not much time to look about, for as soon as he had given up his hat and coat his host led him towards the fire and two ladies came up. He knew one was his partner's mother and the other his sister, but although they were like Lawrence he remarked a difference that was puzzling until he understood its origin. Mrs. Featherstone had an unmistakable stamp of dignity, but her face was gentle and her look very friendly; her daughter was tall and Foster thought remarkably graceful, with an air of pride and reserve, although this vanished when she gave him a frank welcoming smile. Featherstone, who was older than his wife, had short, grey hair, and lined, brown face, but looked strong and carried himself well.

Foster, who liked them at once, wondered rather anxiously whether he had pleased or disappointed them. But imagined that they would reserve their opinion. They were, of course, not the people to show what they thought, and if he had felt any embarrassment, they would have known how to put him at his ease. Still his type was, no doubt, new to them and his views might jar. He did not remember what they said, but they somehow made him feel he was not a stranger but a friend who had a claim, and when he went to his room he knew he would enjoy his stay with Featherstone's people.

VI.

His Comrade's Story

Foster spent the most part of the next day in the open air with his host. Featherstone had a quiet, genial manner and seemed to have read much, though he held the narrow views that sometimes mark the untravelling Englishman. He appeared to be scrupulously just and showed sound judgment about matters he understood, but he had strong prejudices and Foster did not think him clever. With his rather sensitive pride and fastidiousness he was certainly not the man to make his mark in Canada, and Foster began to understand certain traits that had puzzled him in his son, Lawrence, although he had keener intelligence, was not quite so fine a type as his father, and in consequence stood rough wear better. But he too, in spite of his physical courage, now and then showed a supine carelessness and tried to avoid, instead of boldly grappling with, things that jarred.

They set out to go shooting, but Featherstone stopped to talk to everybody they met, and showed keen interest in such matters as the turnip crop and the price of sheep. It was clear that he was liked and respected. Sometimes he turned aside to examine tottering gates and blocked ditches, and commented to Foster upon the economies of farming and the burden of taxes. The latter soon gathered that there was not much profit to be derived from a small moorland estate and his host was far from rich. It looked as if had cost him, and perhaps his family, some self-denial to send the money that had once or twice enabled Lawrence, and Foster with him, to weather a crisis.

At noon they were given a better lunch than Foster had often been satisfied with at a lonely farm, where Featherstone spoke of him as his son's partner, and seemed to take an ingenious pride in making it known that Lawrence was prospering. This gave Foster a hint that he acted on later. They, however, shot a brace of partridges in a turnip field, a widgeon that rose from a reedy tarn and a woodcock that sprang out of a holly thicket in a bog. It was a day of gleams of sunlight, passing showers, and mist that rolled about the hills and swept away, leaving the long slopes in transient brightness, checked with the green of mosses and the red of withered fern. The sky cleared as they turned homewards, and when they reached the Garth an angry crimson glow spread across the west.

Tea was brought them in the hall and Foster, who had changed his clothes, which was a rare luxury in Canada, sat with much content in a corner by the hearth. He had been out in the raw wind long enough to enjoy the rest and warmth, and the presence of the two English ladies added to the charm. Mrs. Featherstone was knitting, but Alice talked to her father about the shooting and what he had noted on the farms. Foster thought her cleverer than the others, but it was obvious that her interest was not forced. She understood agriculture and her remarks were singularly shrewd.

Seal Meat Latest Delicacy

Seal meat is the latest table delicacy being considered by the Dominion food board as a substitute for the ordinary bovine species.

Last week officers of the food board interviewed Dr. Grenfell, of the Labrador Mission, with regard to this proposal. Dr. Grenfell reported that it would be quite easy to secure twenty million pounds of seal meat after skinning the animals and extracting the surplus fat. It could be frozen and stored at St. Johns and Halifax. The meat is said to be palatable and to possess high nutritive value, and the matter will be gone into shortly.

CANADA MUST DO LARGE PART IN SUPPLYING FOOD FOR ALLIES

TO PLANT EVERY POSSIBLE ACRE OF WHEAT

Provincial Governments Make Appeal to People to Bend Every Energy to Work of Greater Production, as Seriousness of Food Situation is Not Yet Thoroughly Understood

In an address delivered recently by Hon. T. H. Johnson, attorney-general in the Manitoba legislature, dealing with the proceedings of the conference of provincial representatives at Ottawa, extreme weight was laid upon the importance of the question of supplying the allies with food. Mr. Johnson said in part:

The first request of the federal authorities is that every provincial government and legislature should constitute itself a war committee on production, which will work in co-operation with the Canada food board recently constituted. The appeal of this board has been summarized as follows:

Canadians must plant this spring, every possible acre of wheat, oats, barley and rye.

Bring into cultivation every possible acre of new land for crop in 1919.

Increase cattle, hogs and sheep to the greatest possible extent.

Secure the cultivation of garden and vacant lots in town and city with a view of raising the maximum amount of vegetables.

Now as to the methods by which it is hoped to bring this about.

1. The provincial authorities see that a proper quantity of seed is available and distributed in their respective provinces.

2. That provincial governments undertake the work of ascertaining the form of assistance which may be required by their farmers in order to secure the breaking in 1918 of a definite increased acreage of new land more than would normally be broken for crop in 1919.

3. The assistance of provincial departments of agriculture in taking orders for farm tractors, and forwarding same to the Canada food board at Ottawa, which board has made available to farmers at cost, a large number of tractors.

4. The assistance of the provinces through their educational departments in making 'teen-age boys available by providing that such boys shall not lose their educational standing through absence from school for the purpose of working on farms. Co-operation by provincial governments in securing 'teen-age boys as recruits for soldiers of the soil by means of lectures in every public and high school; to show the boys the necessity of getting out on the farms, and helping the labor situation. Voluntary enlistment in all cities, towns and villages, of persons to work on the land.

5. To arouse the people to the need by way of public addresses and organization through municipal machinery with a view of having committees working in every municipality and township.

By frank statements from time to time of the seriousness of the situation, giving definite facts in respect thereto.

By a series of addresses in each province from the premier, members of the government and legislature, and other citizens.

By requesting the clergymen of every church in Canada to preach two sermons in the month of March urging increased food production to save the people of our allies, who will otherwise starve.

By enlisting the assistance of all newspapers to keep the need constantly before the public.

Towards this end, the Canada food board will supply reading matter to newspapers and circularize boards of trade, societies of all kinds women's associations and other bodies.

The federal authorities will also, in co-operation with the provinces, financially assist in practical steps which will ensure greater production.

The conference commended an appeal to the people of Canada calling upon every person to work at something useful—preferably essential. It further recommends to every province in Canada, the abolition of all private employment agencies and the substitution therefore of provincially conducted employment agencies which will work in conjunction with a Dominion labor exchange, in the hope that by this means the greatest facility will be afforded in bringing together the employer and the employed.

Japan's Job in the War

Proper Sphere of Activity Is in the Orient and on the Eastern Pacific

In examining the question of dispatching Japanese troops to Europe it must be noted that it was neither the wish of her allies nor that of Japan that she should thrust herself upon the European stage. The writer is aware that the subject has been discussed by certain publicists of some allied countries, but he has no knowledge of any formal request having been made to Japan by any of the allied governments to send an expeditionary force to Europe.

The reason is not far to seek. Japan's proper sphere of activity is in the Orient and on the Eastern Pacific. It was for this reason that, when she entered the war, Japan, by an agreement with her ally, limited her naval and military activities to the Far East and its waters. True, the sphere of her naval operations was gradually extended. In certain parts of the Mediterranean a fleet of Japanese destroyers is today co-operating against the enemy submarines. But so far as the movement of Japan's land forces is concerned the basis of action first agreed upon still remains intact, for no cause that justifies its alteration has yet appeared.—T. Iyenaga, in the Outlook.

The Only Real Peace

It Must Be Made on the Battlefield by the Defeat of German People

The force against which we are fighting, since it is only through the defeat of this force that we can claim the victory—and this force is the German government, which is one and is backed up, supported, aided, and abetted by the German people. Victory can be achieved, then, only by the defeat of both. The German people have placed the stamp of approval upon the invasion of Belgium and are even now demanding the annexation of that unfortunate state; the German people turned the Lusitania massacre into a German feast; of the two hundred and odd Socialist papers in Germany less than a dozen acquiesced in the justice of the attempt to separate the government they now have. We have, on the contrary, a wealth of evidence that they do.

The trouble lies much deeper than a superficial governmental form. It is the entire system of German philosophy with which both government and people are thoroughly impregnated. For years, all German thought has been controlled by the doctrine of the famous triumvirate, Nietzsche, Treitschke, and Bernhardi. Almost without exception, every professor in every German university, every teacher in every German school, every preacher in every German pulpit has been teaching and preaching of Germany's divine right, by virtue of her superiority in mind and in morals, to anything she might feel necessary to her unlimited growth regardless of who might be the rightful owner. Deutschland uber Alles is but the crystallization of this entire philosophy. And as a vital dogma of their political and religious faith the German peoples believe it and live it. Until this dogma is stripped from German philosophy, until there has been beaten into the soul of every individual in the empire that right alone makes for might, and that there is no righteousness in brute force—until the German people are taught the meaning of personal individual honor, of national and international morality, the German people as well as their government will continue to constitute the greatest menace to civilization and to the peace of the civilized world.

But what, you may ask, has all this to do with Germany's preparations for the next war? The connection is not difficult to establish. Any peace which does not embrace a permanent solution of those questions for which we took up arms is unthinkable. But before we can think of peace we must form a clear mental conception of why we are fighting, whom we are fighting, and what we are fighting for.

The Germans are shrewd, cunning and unscrupulous. A German so-called democracy, with a Scheideemann as its head and the Hohenzollerns behind the curtain pulling the strings, would not be a difficult thing to form; and, once formed, how could we, if we are honest in our stated aims, refuse to make peace. And having made peace, what would there be to prevent the beast from again raising his ugly head, and while his fangs are still dripping with the blood of the millions he has caused to be slain on the soil of Europe, burying his claws in the heart of the civilized world?

If we destroy the Hohenzollerns and leave untroubled the German people with their false philosophy, we are applying merely a surface treatment to a deep-seated canker, which will only erupt again, more violent, more virulent than before.

If we would accomplish our purpose, then this power must be destroyed; otherwise we have lost the war, and all the sacrifices of wealth and of life will have been in vain. The peace will not be a peace, but as I have said, a truce, and we must at once prepare for a greater, a more consuming struggle. Let us make such a peace, we must change our mental process, revise our psychology, and see to it that the ability even to war again is permanently removed from Germany and from all things German, from the quiet beer drinker of Munich as thoroughly as from the war lord at Wilhelmstrasse. This can be accomplished, not through peace engineered about the council table, but through peace made on the battlefield as a result of the destruction, the capture, or the dispersion of the German army.—J. B. W. Gardiner in the World's Work.

Following Napoleon's Path

In carving up eastern Europe into vassal states, of which the Ukraine is the first to accept the gilding for the chains, the Kaiser is following closely in the path of Napoleon, whom present-day Germany worships as the incarnation of force, and as an even better model than Frederick the Great because he worked on a vaster scale. What Napoleon did in the west Wilhelm II. seeks to do in the east, and the opportunity for empire is dazzling. Yet though the fight was long and desperate, the great empire crumbled and where Napoleon ended all know.—From the Springfield Republican.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF SEA POWER IN THE PRESENT WORLD CRISIS

WHERE THE WAR WILL BE FINALLY DECIDED

As Long as Great Britain Retains Control of the Seas, so Long Will the Enemy be Held in Subjection and a Victory for The Allied Cause Assured

The Way of the Hun

High Seas Piracy Has No Limit Set In Frightfulness

"You have only 480 miles to go," jeered the commander of a Hun submarine as he ordered the open boat in which were Claude Featherstone, a young apprentice from Tunbridge Wells, and seven other British sailors to shove off. They had only two tins of bully beef aboard, and suffered terribly for three and a half days before they were picked up.

Their ship was torpedoed on the morning of September 11 without the slightest warning, the engine room being hit and the boilers burst. Many of the engineers and firemen were fearfully scalded, and as the ship's gun was put out of action the crew were helpless. The submarine came to the surface and opened fire with both guns, and as the sailors began to lower their boats aimed directly at them.

"The Huns summoned us alongside," said young Featherstone, as he described his experience, "and then, putting a prize crew in my boat, made us row backwards and forwards for four hours from the ship to the submarine with copper, brass and other fittings of value. They took our gun, and the German sailors were allowed to go aboard and take any clothing they wanted."

"Why," the brutes even dragged the oilskins and boots off of us and took our personal possessions—even little souvenirs they seized and flaunted them in our faces!

"They commandeered all our food and meant to turn us adrift to starve, but fortunately our officer managed to hide two tins of bully beef. They then put bombs in the hold of the ship and sank her and left us to our fate."

"For three and a half days, we drifted and tossed about in a heavy sea, suffering terribly from hunger and thirst. Our faces were blistered by the continual wash of the sea, and we were completely exhausted. We were nearly at our last gasp and ready to end it all and jump overboard, when a patrol boat hove in sight and we were rescued."

Another boat, containing 25 of the crew, was set adrift separately and Featherstone had no idea what had become of it. It has since been recovered with only five men, all Chinamen, alive. As it put off from the submarine the Germans shelled it, killing four of the men, and the same night it capsized two or three times, drowning others.

Experience with Arabs

Escape From Murder by Arabs After Being Shipwrecked

Adventures such as rarely befall British soldiers are recorded by Sergt. J. Harte, of the Inland Water Transport, reports the Daily Chronicle. They include escape from murder by Arabs after being shipwrecked, and a nine day's tramp in the desert. Sergt. Harte had written to his relatives to say he is alive and well, and he supplies the following details:

In tow of a tug, Sergt. Harte and a party were proceeding from Aden to Muscat on a barge when a hurricane sprang up and extinguished the fires of the tug, which foundered with all hands.

The tow ropes were cut, and the small craft, with temporary sails, made from awnings, drifted about for many days. At last the boat was driven ashore with its occupants under a cliff on the Arabian coast. Immediately the craft was sighted 300 Arabs, armed with knives, swarmed aboard and looted it.

Sergeant Harte says: "Our party could not put up much of a fight, but I knocked one Bedouin over the ship's side, and then got knocked out myself and thrown into the surf."

"When the Arabs got us well inland, they told us to get ready to have our throats cut, which they expressed their intention of doing as soon as they had taken everything from the ship. Nothing, however, occurred until the following day, when, a little before day break, the Arabs began to fight among themselves over the division of the loot, and what should be done with their captives."

"While our guard left us to join in the fight, we crawled away, and then escaped over the mountains into the desert, over which we tramped for nine days, practically without food or water. It was nine days of untold misery."

"Eventually we arrived at a place where friendly natives lent us a scow of about 250 tons. After eight days of further privation we were taken on board a warship which had been despatched to the scene of the wreck."

Developments of the last few months have changed the position on land to the enemy's advantage in a most disconcerting and discouraging way. But as no one knows better than the enemy himself, it is at sea, and not on land that the war will finally be decided. The factors, that is to say, on which victory depends, are still those that derive from sea power. How well the enemy understood this a year ago was proved by his being compelled to drive the United States into belligerency rather than forego his only possible stroke at the sea supplies that kept the military alliance against him in munitions and stores, and the civil populations, on whose well being and contentment all military force is founded, supplied with the necessities of living and prosperity. A year ago, when the enemy's efforts to make peace after his many defeats on the Somme had failed, when President Wilson's last effort at an amicable arrangement had shown all the world that no settlement by negotiations was possible, it became at once clear that a ruthless submarine attack on our supply ships would immediately be made. From the day when Von Tirpitz first threatened the world with the submarine, in December, 1914, until she drove America into war in February, 1917, Germany was never under the faintest illusion about the sea war being the real war.

It is a vital matter that civilians in all countries should bear this fundamental truth in mind, especially at the moment when the disappearance of Russia has altered the whole balance of power on land. For the disappearance of Russia and the change in the military situation that results do not in the least degree affect the validity of the axiom on which our enemy has acted consistently and from the first. For the military change amounts only to this, that until the American army redresses the balance on land, the allied forces are possibly insufficient to obtain a definite military victory. But meanwhile, the enemy forces are still less able to obtain a decision in their favor. The change in balance, then, restores a situation gravely weighted against the central powers to equality only. And it is at best, temporary.

The problem of the day, then, is civil endurance; how shall we hold out till the enemy force is spent? It is largely a matter of confidence—of the certainty of ultimate and complete success. This confidence—if I am right in saying that ultimate success turns on the sea war—should now be better founded than it has ever been, for the reason that never before have we had a better assurance that a sea power would be rightly used. The reform of the admiralty, initiated by the criticism of last April and May, begun by Mr. Lloyd George in the end of the latter month and now completed by Sir Eric Geddes, should form the turning point in the war.—Arthur Pollen in Land and Water.

Killed by Poisons

All scientists agree that poisonous products in the blood are eliminated by the kidneys and liver. The kidneys act as a kind of filter for these products. When the kidneys are changed or degenerated, by disease or old age, then these poisons are retained in the body. If we wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily between meals to flush the kidneys. Then procure Anuria at a drug store. This Anuria drives the uric acid out. Scientific men have learned that in gout, also rheumatism, poisonous uric acid crystals are deposited in or about the joints, in the muscles—where inflammation is set up.

If we wish to keep our kidneys in the best condition a diet of milk and vegetables, with only a little meat once a day, is the most suitable. Drink plenty of pure water, take Anuria three times a day for a month.

You can obtain a trial pkg. of Anuria by writing Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., or Bridgeburg, Ont., enclosing 10c.

St. Catharines, Ont.—"For sixteen years I have been a sufferer from kidney trouble; my back has ached almost continuously and I have had rheumatic pains in my arms, hands and lower limbs. I have doctored and tried every medicine recommended to me, but have never found the relief in anything (no matter how much I took) that I have found in one small package of Anuria. In one week the secretion cleared and my bladder was stronger than for years, so that I was not disturbed at night, where I always had to arise several times during the night. I only hope that many will read this and will try Anuria if they suffer with any sort of kidney trouble."—MRS. JACOB LONGBERRY, 45 Ash Street.

A GOOD IDEA TO HELP FARMERS

To organize the business men and town workers for the purpose of assisting the farmer at harvest time when it is thought labor will be very scarce is the idea of Mr. Parker R.
Reed, who has already approached several of the leading business men in town on the question and who have enthusiastically promised their work and support for the project.
The idea is that towards harvest time volunteers from town be called for the purpose of stooking the grain as it is cut. Owners of automobiles will be called upon to take these volunteers in the late afternoon or evening to the farms where such help is needed, fifteen or twenty men to a farm, who it is thought could stook a lot of grain during the long evenings which would lighten the load of the farmer considerably.
Of course it is not expected that the farmer should get off free from payment for such services, but considering the help he would be receiving he would no doubt be willing to pay a fair price for this labor. No doubt quite a few would be willing to give their services free but it would be unjust to expect this because all would not be in position to do so. If the suggestion meets with the approval of those concerned an organizer would have to be appointed to make all necessary arrangements so that there would be no confusion as to when the services of these men should be given and where. The whole scheme looks very feasible and it can be safely said that as far as the business men are concerned it will receive their heartly support. It is up to the farmers to express their approval or disapproval of the suggestion because if there are not enough of them to state their willingness to accept such help it is of no use for the business men to waste time over the matter further.

A Daring Naval Raid Which Was Suc- cessful

The fighting on the western front brugge, blocking the harbors by sinking concrete laden hulks at their entrances and then blowing them up. The results were costly to the Allies, but results justified all losses. The whole undertaking was carried out by volunteers called.

Talked Over Municipal Hospital Matters

An informal preliminary meeting to talk over Municipal Hospital matters was held in the Opera House on Wednesday of last week under the auspices of the Didsbury Women's Institute. At the beginning of the meeting it looked as though interest in the cause was at a very low ebb as there were very few present, but later in the evening a fairly large audience was present and much interest was shown by the questions put to the speaker of the evening,
Mr. H. B. Atkins, M. L. A.

At the opening it was moved that Mr. Norman Clarke be chairman, which carried unanimously. Mr.
Clarke then called upon Mr. Atkins to give an outline of the new Municipal Hospitals Act passed at the recent session of the Alberta Legislature.

After a short discussion a committee was formed of the following ladies and gentlemen to take up the preliminary petitions to be presented to the government: Mr. P. R.
Reed, Didsbury; Mr. Norman
Clarke, Reeve of Westerdale Municipality; Mr. Harry Pearson, Reeve of Mountain View Municipality;
Mr. Pearson, of Rosebud Municipality; Mr. Alex Robertson, of Westcott, and Mrs. H. W. Chambers for the Women's Institute. None but ratepayers are allowed to sign these petitions.

Mountain View Muni- cipality

The Council of the above Municipality met at Olds on Saturday, April 13th. Reeve H. E. Pearson,
Councillors W. E. Flynn, A. D.
Platt, T. E. Leech, Wm. Rupp and
G. Metz present.

An application from Dr. Evans for $10 damages to his auto caused by bad roads was refused.

Reeve Pearson was appointed representative to the Olds hospital board.

Mr. J. Pickering and Mr. R. L.
Nicholson interviewed the Council in regard to division of roads which will be taken up.

Mrs. McKinnon and Mrs. Platt requested a grant towards the rest room in Olds provided by the Women's Institute. A grant of $25 was made for this purpose.

The Secretary-Treasurer and Assessor is to be paid a salary of $1400 per year, they to furnish bonds and pay telephone rental.

The schedule of rates for labor for this year was settled.

A gopher bounty of 1c per tail will be paid up to June 1st, 1918.

A number of accounts were ordered paid.

Thousands of thoughtless people neglect colds every winter. A cough follows; they get rundown—then stubborn sickness sets in. This can be prevented easier than it can be cured. If you will give your system the benefit of a few bottles of you will find your whole system strengthened. It will fortify your lungs and throat and enrich your blood against rheumatism. Scott's is powerful concentrated nourishment without drugs or opiates.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Food Will Win the War

Some heedless people are heard to murmur, "Why pinch ourselves in order to send food to the allies?" The answer is simple and direct. We wish to win the war. And there is only one way of doing this, by supplying our allies with sufficient food. They have already done their share.—New York Post.

If All Played Out, Try This Prescription

When that overpowering weariness and a never-rested feeling comes over you, it shows some serious disorder is undermining your health. The cure is simple. Build up the system and nourish the body back to health by pure wholesome blood.

The one sure means of doing this is with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are a marvellous aid to appetite—convert all you eat into nutriment and tissue-building material. Thus a weak body is supplied with new nerve fibre, hardy muscle and firm flesh. Lasting good health is sure to follow. If you really want to get well and stay well, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box at all dealers.

The Interesting Evidence

"I understand you called on the complainant. Is that so?" demanded a brow-beating solicitor of a man he was cross-examining. "Yes," replied the witness. "What did he say?" Counsel for the other side objected that evidence as to a conversation was not admissible, and half an hour's argument ensued. Then the magistrate retired to consider the point, announcing on his return some time later that he deemed the question a proper one. "Well, what did the plaintiff say?" repeated the cross-examining solicitor. "He didn't say anything; he wasn't at home, sir," was the answer.—Vancouver Province.

Japan's Aid

The Japanese ambassador in Rome has handed to the prime minister of Italy the sum of £62,258 to be applied to the benefit of wounded soldiers and refugees from the invaded provinces. The money was collected by a Japanese society of which the head is Prince Tokugawa, president of the chamber of peers, and among the promoters of the movement was the Japanese foreign minister.

Food That Conserves

The recognized value of

Grape-Nuts

as a "saving" food for these serious times, rests upon real merit.

Unlike the ordinary cereal Grape-Nuts requires no sugar, little milk or cream, and requires no cooking or other preparation in serving.

A trial is well worth while for those who sincerely desire to save.

Jam for Britain's Army

The fondness of the British "Tommy," as well as of Britishers generally, for sweet fruit jams and marmalades has necessitated the inclusion of these sweets in the rations used by soldiers and sailors. The importance of this item of war supplies is shown by the fact, just announced, that the minister of customs of Australia, through the commonwealth government, has placed a contract with the British government for 50,000,000 pounds of Australian jam, involving the expenditure of upwards of $5,250,000. The order was so large that the contract was distributed throughout the Australian states to factories equipped to manufacture the jam. It is predicted that this industry will greatly stimulate the production of small fruits, by providing a market for any excess in production.

There Is a Message In This Lady's Story

SHE TELLS WHAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DO FOR WOMEN

She Was Troubled With Weakness and Her Daughter Had Nervous Troubles. Dodd's Kidney Pills Proved the Remedy They Both Needed.

Hamilton, Ont., (Special).—The story told by Mrs. H. Dickens, of 70 Tom Street, this city, carries a message of hope to every suffering woman in Canada.

"After my baby was born," Mrs. Dickens states, "I used to suffer with my back and had no heart to do my work around the house. But I read about Dodd's Kidney Pills and what they have done for others, so I thought I would get a box and see what they would do for me."

"I am pleased to say that after taking two boxes I found such great relief I would not be without them in the house."

"My daughter, too, had been very sick on and off for a long time. Her nerves got so bad we were afraid we would see her in the hospital. But I am pleased to say she is better through taking Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I never thought Dodd's Kidney Pills could have done such good work and I am telling all my friends about them."

Women's troubles, or nearly all of them, come from sick kidneys. The cure for them is the old established remedy for sick kidneys, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Finds Lost Sheep With Airplane

Stanley Smith, millionaire sheepman of Martindale, Mont., has placed an order for a $5,500 airplane with which to search for lost bands of sheep in the high mountain pastures. Smith already has two ninety-horse power planes, and is known as "the flying sheep herder." Smith says the airplane method of finding lost flocks has saved him a small fortune and the lives of countless sheep. The time saved in locating them has allowed them to be rescued by his employees before the flocks starved or froze to death.—San Francisco Chronicle.

French to Sow Manitoba Seed

The Paris Journal officially states that this year is 800,000 acres more than last year, which should increase the crop by 4,000,000 quintaux, totaling 50,000,000 for the year. The nominal production before the war was 90,000,000. Further sowing will be undertaken with Manitoba seed if the transport arrives before the season is too advanced.

Bolshevikism Defined

Toryism would "maintain the established order"; democracy would invite the maid of all work to the family councils and the common table; Bolshevism would put the maid in the parlor and relegate the family to the kitchen and the coal-bin.—From the Chicago Daily News.

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:

"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1221 6th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

AROUND THE TOWN

Bert Cressman came home from Stavely last Wednesday for a short visit.

Norman Clark and A. G. Studer both bought Chevrolet cars last week.

The W. C. T. U. received $5.40 from the Springside ladies to be used for the Prisoners of War fund.

Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Norman Weicker will have charge of the Red Cross tea rooms Friday afternoon.

Mr. Jas. Pirie, of Senlac, Sask., was a visitor in town on Tuesday. Mr. Pirie formerly conducted a general store in town. He is looking well.

Mrs. Thos. Gale, who spent several days in town visiting at the home of her son, Mr. O. S. Love, returned to her home near Lacombe on Sunday.

Pte. G. R. Reynolds, of Stavely, lately returned from the front, having previously been wounded four times besides shell shocked, visited Bert Cressman and friends in town last Wednesday, and left the same day for Calgary where he will enter the Ogden Convalescent Home.

Mrs. Frank Reek left on Saturday for the hospital at Winnipeg to undergo more operations for her trouble. It is wonderful that she has the strength, vitality and cheerfulness to stand up under her severe sufferings. This will be the seventh operation, but it is hoped it will be the last.

After volunteering twice and being turned down as medically unfit three times Eddie Pirie was taken for military service last week, leaving for Calgary to take up his military duties on Friday last. Eddie was one of the young men of the town who has made for himself a host of friends both young and old who will wish him God speed and a safe return.

The merchants of Didsbury have agreed to close their stores at 6 o'clock each evening except Saturdays and nights before holidays, when they will keep open till 10 o'clock. The new rule goes into effect on May 1st. This is a move in the right direction. There is absolutely no valid reason why clerks should be working after these hours, and the general public will not suffer.

It is now against the law to print, publish or publicly express an adverse or unfavorable statement, report or opinion concerning the present war or the motives or purposes for which Canada or the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland or any of the Allied nations entered upon or prosecuted the same, which may tend to arouse hostile feeling, create unrest or unsettle or inflame public opinion. Every person should give the above every consideration as it concerns everyone. The penalty for infraction is very heavy.

RED CROSS BULLETIN

The Society wishes to thank the following for their donations:

His pet, the Western Mutual Fire, Of which he's Manager and Sire, Engages his attention most, And spreads his name from coast to coast.

He next to this, and his dear wife, Loves the Confederation Life, With eloquence, almost sublime, Extols its virtues all the time.

And when the agent comes to town, Parker will never turn him down, But helps him bag all within reach; He who escapes is sure a peach.

Goliath? yes and looks the part, But he's no bigger than his heart; He who abuses him, by gee! Will have to square accounts with me.

Composed and contributed by J. P. Ross, Manager of the Confederation Life Association, Calgary.

The Rugby Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. E. B. Parker on Thursday, May 30th, instead of May 2nd. Subject: Report of Edmonton Convention.

The W. C. T. U. would kindly urge the public to contribute liberally towards the Prisoners of War fund as aid to carry on this worthy object is much needed.

W. Farrington, Manager of the Opera House, has two exceptionally good moving picture shows arranged for, the dates on which they will be shown and subjects of same as follows: Friday and Saturday, May 3rd and 4th, "The Barriers," 8 reels; Monday and Tuesday, May 6th and 7th, Charley Chaplin, in "Behind the Scene," and Gail Kane in "The Upper Crust."

Mounted Police Want Men

As it is now well known that the fine western force the Royal Northwest Mounted Police are to go overseas it is desired to fill the ranks with a few recruits. They will go immediately to reinforce the cavalry brigades now on the western front.

The men wanted must be good riders and between the ages of 18 to 45 years inclusive as well as physically fit.

Anyone who would like to join up with this splendid organization should apply to the nearest police post or at division headquarters at Calgary.

Of Interest to Farmers

To avoid delay and inconvenience in having their Spring harnesses and repair work done in time to go on the land, I would strongly advise farmers to bring their work in early and give us a chance to give you that good work and satisfaction that is so difficult to give when overcrowded with work. Our prices for repairs are very reasonable and mean a big saving when high prices of new harnesses are considered. We clean, oil and blacken harness for $3.00 per set team harness.

Bring your's in and see us make it look like a new set.
